“ My beautiful Aunt Susan. I can still see your smiling face and hear your laugh. It's funny the little things we remember. I remember when I was probably 5 yrs old and we lived in Jax on Spring Park Rd and you lived across the cat walk. You came over (you walked bc you did not have a car) you and mama laid out and I played in the wash tub. I put in to go home with you but I had to take my wash tub with me. You carried that wash tub from my house and across the cat walk (which was across I-95) to your house on the other side. You've loved me a long time Aunt Susan and I love you too. Until we meet again 💕💕

“ Miss the good fun times we had growing up. I still remember that time I took you to the Foreigner concert at the Jacksonville Coliseum with Alan and Mark White. You was next to me and most of the night having a good time. Later I noticed you were gone and asked Alan if he seen where you went. He said Mark took you to the van. I was like ...Ole Hell no! I left the show and rescued you from a situation that would have gone bad. I knew the guy's reputation with the ladies. You actually seemed a bit scared and hugged me. I think that was the first time I had to rescue you. Gonna miss those crazy conversations we used to have. You made us laugh a lot and made us worry a lot. Take care my sister and may we see each other in the New World to come.

“ My mom was a mother that never let something stop her. She gave me her determination. A single mother who raised 3 kids and somehow always found a way to provide for us. If my mom had 2 pennies to rub together she would buy us whatever she could. My mom was a mother who always liked to prank us, and always showed affection. I remember my mom used to love for all of us to get in the bed with her to go to sleep. She didn't like sleeping alone. I can remember when there was a storm her being the opposite of a child. She would come into our room and sleep with us. I love you mom. Thank you for always watching out for us. I know you're in heaven and I will miss your calls every week. I will miss your random text of "I love you" thank you mom for bringing me into this world and thank you for always showing love. Love Mikey.

“ My mom, I will always remember her as a person who no matter what always had a certain laugh, and a great smile, a personality that no one in this world could never have. We had good times and bad times like families do I'm actually laughing right now because when I was younger my mom and I my brother mickey, autumn went though a lot but our mother always found a way or we did as a family to survive so in my opinion I think I had one of the best teachers in the world it is something you can not be tough in school. For that I am grateful. I know my mother is in a better place looking down saying I can not wait till I see my family again. She also had a great sister My aunt Debbie she also played a role in my life but for me I think what counts the most in life is have a family who stick together it really makes a difference. With that being said I am thankful to have been brought into this world by the most Craziest, funniest, loving, caring human in the world I will always love you so much mom... RIP LOVE JASON.
