“ My Momma and my best friend. I miss you so much, what will I do without you ? The grief my heart feels is more than I have ever experienced yet in the stillness of thoughts and memories I am comforted and held tightly by the Holy Spirit. There is no question whatsoever where you are resting eternally and this supplies my emptiness with great hope through Jesus Christ. My homecoming will be so much sweeter knowing you will be there waiting on me . Rest, my precious beautiful Mother, until we meet on that beautiful shore and forever praise Jesus together. I love you so very much momma. Thank you for always loving me, understanding me, forgiving me, supporting me, holding me close when I needed it most and for always always always making me laugh. No words of goodbye, you live on in my heart therefore we will always be together. See you soon, your baby girl forever, Brenda.

“ Grandma, this world seems like such a strange place without you in it. This will be the first Christmas without you, but it brings us peace knowing that you are celebrating with Jesus this year along with Papa, all of your siblings, your mother and friends. What a beautiful thought that is along with the fact that we will all be together again one day. I can't wait to hug you again. Thank you Grandma for loving us passionately, deeply and unconditionally and for teaching us the true meaning of giving. You are the epitome of the word matriarch and our family has been ever so blessed because of you. I love you more than I could ever express in words, and I hope you rest in peace knowing that we will be okay. Forever your Wissay Gayle
